May 12th/15th 2016
Pozzallo

Program Festival of Mediterranean
Culture

festivalsabir.it

Sabir, a festival promoted by ARCI, Caritas, A Buon Diritto, Asgi, Charter of Roma and ACLI, is organized by ARCI with the collaboration of the city of Pozzallo, Sicily. It is meant to be a widespread and mobile festival, a vehicle for thoughts about the Mediterranean alternatives in Europe's symbolic places on Europe's doorstep. After Lampedusa, Sabir arrives in Pozzallo, a landing place and cultural crossroads in the heart of the Mediterranean Sea. The first edition of Sabir was held in Lampedusa from October 1st to 5th, 2014. Thanks to the well-structured and constant work carried out with international networks and stakeholders from the Mediterranean region throughout the period preceding the second edition, the festival has become a consolidated event. The second edition's performances, debates, international meetings and workshops enlivening the city of Pozzallo will pivot on the "Mediterranean alternatives".

Sicily was chosen as the Festival's geographical location to highlight the collective responsibility for the 2015 migration massacres in the Mediterranean Sea where over 3,500 men, women and children lost their lives. Such responsibility is mainly ascribable to Italy's and Europe's political choices in terms of immigration policies, to a paradigmatic idea of international relationships and democracy that has so far shaped a EU identity that is against many principles set forth by the Charter of Nice and the Constitutions drawn up from 1945 onwards.

This political responsibility has become even more apparent today. The creation of hotspots, as a result of European decisions, are transforming landing places like Lampedusa, Pozzallo, Trapani, Augusta and Porto Empedocle into detention places where fingerprints are taken by force and differed rejections take place. The Festival will repeat the same formula that marked the 2014 edition. It will showcase an alternation of cultural events, interactive, musical and theatrical workshops and International meetings – a highly dynamic formula that aroused a great deal of interest among the local population as well as international participants. Indeed, the aim is to continue to put inhabitants, migrants living in the region and participants in the limelight. The numerous cultural initiatives – especially workshops and events that were followed by a heedful and amused audience – are mainly dedicated to them.

The presence of representatives of European and African civil societies will make it possible to carry on the debate on the European derailments in the Mediterranean context.

A derailment that increasingly intertwines different social emergencies more and more, from regional conflicts, to National extremism arising, from environmental and democratic urgencies to cultural rights and freedom of thought and of speech that are all the more at risk.

Within the field of immigration too, sea tragedies and the EU border management require urgent political answers. Some European pilasters promoted by the institutions, shifting more and more towards repression and criminalization, are put into question. In 2014, Sabir was a National and International event. The media coverage – thanks also to TGR media partnership – will allow to spread the word about the Festival's second edition beyond the city of Pozzallo reporting the most important moments of the event and transmitting its messages.

The main aim is, once again, to create a public alternative representation of the Mediterranean civil society thus enhancing a grass-root democracy-building project from the bottom up.

The Festival's second edition will pivot on all social stakeholders involved, including networks, associations, migrants, informal groups and movements while organizing and managing the initiatives.

This itinerant MBB exhibition offers a multimedia approach to the realities of migration.
